The following sentence at <https://openatlas.eu/features> Anthropological analyse tools allow to enter data that derived from analyses on human remains has a typo on analyse ? Should it be either Anthropological analysis tool or as Anthropological analyses tools ?

In <https://openatlas.eu/software>

Flask is a micro web framework, written in Python, with the ability to scale up to complex applications should say to scale .

Also in <https://openatlas.eu/software> Leaflet is a open source JavaScript library used to build web mapping applications should say an open source .
